

Secure connection in TI & clinics

achelos is back at DMEA Berlin

Paderborn, 19.03.2024 – achelos GmbH will once again be represented as a bronze partner at this year's DMEA 2024 in Hall 6.2 | Stand B105. The firm will present its services relating to the telematics infrastructure and clinics under the slogan "Secure connection in TI & clinics". The leading European trade fair for digital health will be held from 9 to 11 April in Berlin.

DMEA 2024 – Europe's leading event for digital health – will take place this year from 9 to 11 April at the Berlin Exhibition Centre. Around 700 exhibitors and 300 speakers from Germany and abroad are expected to present their solutions and best practices for the future of digital healthcare. achelos GmbH, a system house for cyber security and digital identity management from Paderborn, will also be exhibiting in Hall 6.2 | Stand B105.

achelos supports manufacturers of eHealth solutions in connecting to the telematics infrastructure (TI) and advises on the development of TI products – from planning to test management and approval. achelos has accompanied the digitalization of the healthcare system from its beginnings to the present day, such as the electronic health card, the electronic patient file and the TI messenger (TIM). This fits in perfectly with DMEA 2024, which focuses on specifically implementing digitalization in the healthcare sector. In addition, achelos will be presenting solutions for identity and access management in the healthcare sector with a special focus on clinics for the first time. In addition to the aforementioned topics, achelos is a pioneer in testing the eHealth-CardLink in accordance with the
